Good Clean Fun

Saturday night, nothing really planned other than finding a club for some dancing. Emma was trying to decide what to wear as she stepped under the shower and adjusted the water. She sighed happily as the hot water hit her head and ran down her back, the warmth immediately working its way into muscles tense from a day at work.

“Want me to wash your back?” her husband Tony asked from the bathroom doorway.

Emma stepped out of the stream of water and stuck her head round the edge of the shower curtain. Seeing Tony standing already naked in the doorway, she smiled. “Sure.” Ducking back behind the curtain she bent to pick up the shower gel from the edge of the bath.

“There’s a fantastic sight.” Tony commented as he stepped into the bath behind her, one finger tracing the path a water droplet had made down her thigh and over her left buttock. Emma straightened up as his finger continued up her back, sending a jolt of pleasure along her spine and up her neck. He moved closer as she shivered in delight, and she felt the tip of his swelling cock brush her arse.

“I was going to do my hair first.” she said, passing the bottle over her shoulder.

Tony took the bottle without a word, and she heard it placed on the edge of the bath. Stepping slightly forward, Emma moved under the hot water again then felt Tony’s fingers begin to run through her hair, getting all of it thoroughly wet before he stepped back to reclaim the shower gel and allow her to get her head clear of the stream. As Tony began to massage the gel into her hair and scalp, the hot water cascaded onto her breasts, and she shifted slightly so that the wonderful feeling of his fingers on her scalp was joined by the points of pressure of the individual jets of water playing over the buds of flesh which were becoming firm and increasingly sensitive.

“How’s this?” Tony asked, moving his hands from her head to her neck and shoulders.

“Wonderful.” Emma sighed, inhaling steam scented with citrus and coffee, letting her husband massage and relax her muscles. As his hands strayed forward over her shoulders he moved forward and she once again felt his cock against her rear.

Emma turned as Tony picked up the bottle to get more gel to wash her back. She reached over and took the bottle from him. “Why don’t you do the front first?” She suggested with a grin.

“Sounds like a plan.” Tony said, glancing down at his wife’s erect nipples before placing his hands on her shoulders and beginning to apply the shower gel.

The hot water continued to beat on her shoulders, helping to relax her further as his hands began to stroke over the top of her breasts, spreading the foam from the gel over her wet skin. Tony slipped his palms over her nipples, hearing her happy sigh become a moan of arousal as he cupped and lifted her tits, squeezing briefly then massaging the foam into her cleavage. His hands returned to cover the fully firm buds as Emma poured some gel from the bottle and dropped it into the bath. She leant forward to run her tongue over his lips as he stroked the foam from her flesh, moving her backwards so that the water ran over her mounds, washing them clean while he stroked around and over her increasingly sensitive nipples.

Tony's hands stopped moving as he felt Emma's hand enclose his cock. The shower gel was a sudden coldness in the steam and hot water as she spread it over his rod. Her hand slid easily along his length, lubricated by the gel, which began to tingle. She laughed at the surprised look on his face as the foam covered his engorged flesh and the natural citrus juices coated his sensitive cock-head.
